Comprehensive General Plan Update

Draft Plan Outreach

December 30, 2011

On September 1, 2011, the City released a draft General Plan for public review and comment. The draft release ends one component of public outreach program and initiates the next phase of public participation. In order to ensure the General Plan remains a community based document that represents the community's vision for the future, the next phase of outreach includes many events that seek the participation of community members, such as informational open houses, advisory committee meetings, and feedback from City Commissions. As of this writing, City staff is coordinating informational open house meetings throughout the city. It is anticipated that these events will be held in early 2012. A recruitment process for appointment to the Element Review Advisory Committee was initiated on December 15, 2011. All applications for appointment are due by January 9, 2012.

The City's various commissions have been asked to review and comment on the draft General Plan. Each commission would review portions of the draft policy document and provide comments to the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission would then review the comments from the various commissions and provide additional comments for consideration by the City Council.

The following schedule was developed with the goal to check-in with Council on 4/18/12 regarding land use and housing. This schedule is flexible and dates are subject to change. Please review commission meeting agendas on www.encinitasca.gov to confirm the date, time, location, and the General Plan elements being reviewed.
